THE CITY.

Neither Harry Saunders, or that $300 has been heard from as yet.

Capt. Jas F. Snow is having a veranda built on the front of his cottage.

Several new recruits were mustered into Ruddle Post G. A. R. last Saturday night.

W. S. Humphrey had quite a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism last week.

There are several sidewalks around town that need looking after and repairing.

Quite a number of our citizens are talking of taking in one or the other of the national conventions at Chicago this summer.

Henry Watterson says "There are a lot of ignorant idiots in the south." This undoubtedly accounts for the fact that the south is solidly Democratic.

We see from the St. Ignace Republic that Dr. Jno. R. Bailey has rented his residence at Mackinaw Island to Mrs. John J. Bagley, of Detroit, for the summer.

Capt. Chas. E. Kirtland's new invention for testing mariners compasses is pronounced a grand success and has already been placed upon a number of lake steamers.

The Petoskey Record says that a little effort on the part of the Citizens of that place and Harbor Springs would induce Capt. Grummond to extend the route of his boats to those places.

J. F. Meloney & Brother open their betting works at St. Ignace this week. In connection with it they will keep a sample room and cigar stand. D. Lenahan will have the management.

At the special meeting of Council Saturday evening twenty three liquor bonds were presented. Twenty two were approved, making twenty five in all that have been approved and two rejected.

Postmaster Humphrey has received official notice from the First Assistant Postmaster General, dated 6th inst., that the postoffice at Freedom has been discontinued "the office not being needed."

Frawley & Brown opened their new grocery store last Saturday, in good shape. Their stock is fresh, nicely arranged and trade on the opening day was up to their most sanguine expectations.

No abatement of the interest in the roller skating rink, if anything it seems to be increasing. Several "wee" juvenals are astonishing some of the older ones at the progress they are making in the art.

The City of Mackinaw was bothered badly with logs running in the river last Monday afternoon. The captain blew twice for a tug, but none responded and they had to get lines out from the steamer and warp her up to the dock.

A. P. Newton returned Monday morning on the City of Mackinaw from Port Huron where he had been on business connected with the tug J. W. Bennett. The tug has been advertised for sale under a libel filed by Mr. Newton.

The committee on salaries reported to Council last Saturday evening. They recommended some changes, increasing some and cutting down others and as a consequence there are several officials rather on the anxious seat, waiting a settlement of the all-important question.

Humphrey & Perkins are nicely domiciled in their new quarters and are happy to get settled down to business again. They hope the plastering is on to stay this time. While they are some pleased to have their clients "come down," they have no desire to have the selling do so any more.

At the meeting of Ruddle Post G. A. R. Saturday evening an invitation from Rev. A. W. Westgate was read, inviting the post to attend services at the Congregational church one week from next Sunday, the Sabbath preceding Decoration day. The invitation was accepted by a unanimous vote and the Post will attend services in a body. Rev. Westgate will preach a sermon prepared with special reference to Decoration day and which cannot fail to prove highly interesting, not only to the members of the G. A. R. but to our citizens generally.

Fifty telephones are now connected with the Telephone Exchange.

A light has been placed on the top of the draw bridge on Third street.

The Union House has been sold to McLean the present proprietor. He is making many improvements inside as well as giving it a fresh coat of paint outside.

We have it from pretty reliable sources that the night train on the Michigan Central will be put on next Sunday. The first train will probably come up Sunday night.

H. J. Miner returned home last Saturday from his tour through the South. He was very favorably impressed with Virginia and thinks the chances good for any enterprising and energetic man.

A. R. Thayer reports his excelsior works booming, with orders fully equal to the supply. He is shipping about three car loads of excelsior a week, and expects soon to be able to ship double that amount.

The German Lutherans have a neat school building nearly completed on their church lot, west of the depot. The building is 24 by 30 feet, one story high, and is a credit to this young but flourishing society. Wm. Crawford is plastering the building.

The owners of the small tug Katie are talking of placing her on Black lake. She is a handy little craft and we have no doubt would do well on that lake, and prove quite an accommodation to the numerous settlers living in the vicinity of the lake and to all doing business on the lake.

Some of the southern journals are boasting over the fact that the Democratic Representatives in Congress from their respective states voted solid for the Morrison bill. It does not follow however that they did so from patriotic motives, the same class of representatives voted solid for secession.

The Detroit is the only base ball club in the national league that had not won a game up to the close of last week New York led without a single defeat. Boston, Providence, Chicago, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit following in the order named, Chicago and Philadelphia a tie.

The Department Commander of the Michigan G. A. R. requests a general observance of Decoration Day by the post in the State, and recommends that each post attend divine service in a body on Sunday, May 25. Post Ruddle has accepted the invitation of Rev. A. W. Westgate to attend the Congregational church on that day.

We hear some talk of an effort being made to organize a stock company to build a roller skating rink. We understand several subscribers to the stock have already been secured, and should the necessary amount be raised the building will be put up in the Gallagher & Daily lot, corner of Main and Elm street.

A party from New York is in the village looking for a location to start a tannery. In our opinion there is no better point for such an enterprise than here at Cheboygan.

Geo. E. Frost, United States Circuit Court Commissioner, was engaged several days last week in taking testimony in regard to the contest for ownership of the property opposite the Spencer House, known as the Marine City House.

We understand the longshoremen and the non-union men compromised in the loading of the steam barge Dickinson and tow at Packards mill, the former doing the stowing on the vessels and the latter shoring the lumber from the dock.

Postmaster Humphrey says that some of our citizens when directing letters to Mackinaw City, abbreviate it to "Mack City." As there is a postoffice called Mack City in the southern part of the state, when addressing mail to the former place it should be spelled out in full or the matter is liable to be sent to the latter.

Rondo a new town on the Michigan Central, between Indian River and Wolverine bids fair to become quite a thriving burg in the near future. M. W. Pike of Belmont, N. The Detroit Post and Tribune says that Hon. F. B. Stockbridge has written a letter to a private citizen of that city, in which he announces his absolute withdrawal from the political field as a candidate for governor of Michigan, and says the withdrawal is positive and final. His wife's health is such as to preclude his taking an active part in the campaign, and he expects to leave with her for California or possibly for Europe before the season closes.
